SAFETY MOMENT: Activity Planning and Risk Assessment

As warmer weather is coming, many units will begin planning fun and exciting outdoor activities. For BSA-approved activities, there are several tools available for participants that will help them plan for a fun and safe tour, activity, or event. Good planning and preparedness prior to executing the activity is key to success.

HOT TOPIC: Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder

ADHD is a brain disorder found more commonly in children, but adults can have it as well. It involves difficulty with keeping attention, controlling one's urges, and in maintaining the ability to act appropriately in response to different situations. We'll go over some general information about ADHD, and point out ways that Scout leaders can help their Scouts with ADHD be more successful.

HOT TOPIC: Adventure Cards!

Adventure Cards are Back & BIGGER than EVER! BIG SAVING's for customers, BIG ADVENTURE's for Scouts in this year's adventure card campaign here at VHC. More incentives, more storefront opportunities, and more funds per card for each Scout than ever before. Come to roundtable to learn more about this year's BIGGER Adventure Card Fundraiser for Unit's or Individual Scouts/families.

SCOUTS BSA LEADERS BREAKOUT: SM Conferences & Boards of Review

These steps in the advancement program are important opportunities for feedback to the Scout AND to the troop leaders. Let's discuss who is responsible for the proper execution of these steps.

CUB SCOUT LEADERS BREAKOUT: "Cubervation"

Conservation activities are a fun way to get your Cubs outdoors, involve the whole family, put actions to the words "help other people," "do a good turn daily," and "be conservation-minded." And they're easy to plan and execute. Come share your ideas and learn of some nifty ways to provide this community service.

BREAKOUT: Adventure Cards!

Adventure Card Champions can get further into the details and ask all their questions.

COMMISSIONER BREAKOUT: Checking in with units.
